The Road That Blew Away

Could this be the weirdest call out for 2007?

It was late December in the Hay district and the area had been recently drenched in rain. Firefighters were calm despite the warm weather and thunderstorms. They were even preparing to knock off early for the Christmas break.

Late Friday afternoon, 21 December, however, Hay Fire Control Centre received a report that a mini tornado had just passed through a local property destroying a woolshed and damaging the homestead and several cottages. (see photos bottom right)

A few minutes later Hay Group Captain, Jim Crossley, reported in with another incident on the Cobb Highway. Jim had himself just received a call from a passer-by saying that "the bitumen had blown off the road" near his property.

There was stunned silence for a few seconds in the Fire Control Centre. Jim is not generally known as a practical joker. Jim explained.

List: Writers interviewed by Zora Cross (pseudonym Bernice May) in the Australian Woman's Mirror.

In the late 1920s and early 30s, Zora Cross interviewed her fellow women writers for the popular magazine the Australian Woman’s Mirror. Without these entertaining profiles, there would be little trace of many of these writers in literary history or biography.

Bush Fire Bulletin

The NSW RFS has joined forces with the National Library of Australia to digitise the entire collection of the Bush Fire Bulletin dating back to September 1952.

All editions of the Bush Fire Bulletin are available online and are fully searchable, making this huge historical archive easily accessible.

Commissioner Shane Fitzsimmons has praised the opportunity for the Bush Fire Bulletin to be so accessible.

‘The skill and dedication of our volunteer service has been recorded in the pages of the Bush Fire Bulletin, informing and bringing to life the important work our members undertake,’ Commissioner Fitzsimmons said. ‘I am very proud that this history of the NSW RFS will be available for all of Australia and the world to see.’
